

AustCham Technology and Business Program

Session II An Introduction to Artificial Intelligence

– How AI works and how it is being applied today

Join us on 24th Oct and find out Google’s insights on AI. Leonie Valentine from Google Hong Kong will give an introduction to AI and illustrate how it is being applied and affecting our daily work and life today.

This is the second session of our highly sought-after Technology and Business Program organised by Women in Business Network, aiming to increase knowledge of our members on the threats and opportunities posed by disruptive technologies, to upskill in particular technologies, and to help close the gender technology gap and empower everyone to deliver innovative solutions.
