

AustCham Emerging Technology Program

We are pleased to repeat this highly sought-after program now in its third series, to increase knowledge of our members on the threats and opportunities posed by disruptive technologies, to upskill in particular technologies, and to help close the gender technology gap and empower everyone to deliver innovative solutions.

The program will run one session per month from August 2018 to January 2019 with speakers from leading companies:

Session	Date	Topic
1	Tue 28 Aug 2018	Emerging Technology 101 (PwC)
2	Tue 18 Sept 2018	Blockchain 2.0 - Digital Assets and the Tokenisation of everything (FinTech Australia)
3	Tue 30 Oct 2018	Virtual Reality & Augmented Reality (Shadow Factory)
4	Fri 16 Nov 2018	Tour to Cyberport (Cyberport)
5	Tue 4 Dec 2018 (NEW DATE)	Artificial Intelligence (Google)
6	Tue 22 Jan 2019	Creating Clarity in Digital Transformation (Telstra)

What our previous participants said:

Deirdre: Do not miss this! It is a soup to nuts guided tour through the major technologies impacting our work and personal lives today. It unscrambles the mysteries, through access to exceptional leaders in their fields. Make time!

MAV: A great big thanks to AustCham and the Women in Business Committee for organizing the Women's Technology and Business Program. The program gave me a great insight into the emerging technologies and their implications for business and the community in general. I found the group very engaging with lots of discussion around the various topics. I would certainly recommend this program to anyone wanting to learn more about advances in technology.

Gina: Program subjects are the ones I need to understand right now for my job today. So grateful that each speaker is an industry expert; plus holds Hong Kong, Asia and Australia know-how. Congrats AustCham, as our American friends would say, you "Hit it out of the ballpark"!

Helena: I only went to three but enjoyed all of them. The ideas and networking was fantastic, I've made new connections and as a teacher of Business it is great that I can get a real world perspective.
