Franking credits, negative gearing and superannuation are safe for now – A post-election update for tax effective investing as an expat in Hong Kong Breakfast Event | Wednesday, 19th June 2019

Join us for a post-election update on the current rules and regulations relating to superannuation, franking credits and negative gearing.

The discussion will include a comparison of all available options for tax effective investing for Australian expats while resident in Hong Kong. Options for investing offshore and also assets based in Australia will be discussed.

We will conclude with a global market update and overview of how currency plays a significant role when considering real returns.

About the Speaker:

Bart Piestrzynski
Wealth Manager
St. James's Place Wealth Management

Piestrzynski is one of few advisers in Hong Kong that have a specialist working knowledge of Australian Superannuation. Prior to moving to Hong Kong, Bart spent many years in banking advising high net worth clients in Australia. He has a thorough and up to date technical knowledge of the Australian investment and tax landscape and specialises in wealth-planning and investing for expatriates.
